Client service can be extra important when you need a good lawyer. Whether it's family law, commercial litigation, or personal injury, this small, personalized firm offers just that.

"Every client has different needs and goals," say Joshua Friedman, one of the two principals. "Each case is specific, with its own unique facts. Each requires different procedures. And people come to us, I think, because we focus on those individual needs. And because we get results."

The firm even offers after-hours and weekend service for those who can't get there during the weekdays.

Brodie & Freidman, P.A., is open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. from Monday through Friday, and accepts all major credit cards.
